Thanks for your prompt reply Amber! I think your email crossed with my email to Christine del Portillo so I am copying her here (I did not realize you were handling her scheduling for Committee matters).

Is the Chairman available to meet in the evening, either before votes (5 to 6:30pm) or during votes that night?

I know time can be tight then but as the Director is only available for meetings that one day, I thought I would ask.

Thanks for your consideration!

Hello Mark,

I'm not sure if we ever met but I was on the HCFA Committee staff for several years and am now at Patton Boggs. We represent the Republic of Azerbaijan and I am contacting you on their behalf.

I would like to bring Rovshan Sadigbayli, the Congressional Officer at the Embassy, over to the Hill to meet with you at your earliest convenience for a discussion of U.S. -Azerbaijan relations. My colleague Matt Oresman has had several productive conversations about Azerbaijan with Brian Wanko. We would be pleased if he could join the meeting as well.

Would you have any time in your schedule next week for us to come by to talk with you? I appreciate your consideration and I hope we'll be able to meet with you soon.

Congressman Shuster and Congressman Boren, Co-Chairs of the Azerbaijan Caucus, have arranged for a staff breakfast briefing about the State Oil Fund of the Republic of Azerbaijan (SOFAZ). SOFAZ was established in 1999 with intent to ensure intergenerational equality of benefit with regard to the country's oil wealth, while improving the economic well-being of the population today and safeguarding economic security for future generations.

Activity of the organization is directed at accumulating and preserving oil revenues for future generations of Azerbaijan, preserving macroeconomic stability, ensuring fiscal-tax discipline, decreasing dependence on oil revenues, stimulating development of the non-oil sector and financing major national scale projects to support socio-economic progress.

SOFAZ is closely involved in the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI). Azerbaijan joined EITI in 2003 and was the first country to complete validation. In 2009 the EITI Board designated Azerbaijan as EITI Compliant country.

State Oil Fund won the 2007 UN Public Service Award for Improving Transparency, Accountability and Responsiveness in Public Service for EITI. The Fund became the first state agency in East Europe to be awarded the prize.

Breakfast will be served.

If you have additional questions, please feel free to contact Dennis Wirtz by email (Dennis.Wirtz@mail.house.gov) or by phone 202-225-2431.

Aruba Breaks Tourism Records and Projects Strong Visitor Numbers for 2011

Island Reports Over Five Percent Increase in Stay-Over Visitors for January 2011

New York, NY (April 4, 2011)— Aruba, One happy island, has announced that tourism to the island is off to a strong start in 2011, with a 5.2 percent increase in visitors in January 2011 compared to the same period in 2010, allowing the island to break their January 2008 record (71,262 stay-over visitors) as they welcomed 74,965 visitors in January 2011.

An increase in bookings for the first quarter from the North American market, compared to the same period last year, is also anticipated. Additionally, improved air service from the Canadian market and generally positive market conditions indicate that visitor numbers from Canada will continue to increase.

“The island of Aruba is proud to announce such strong tourism arrivals for the start of 2011, especially since the effects of the recession are still being felt in many key markets,” said Ronella Tjin Asjoe - Croes, CEO of the Aruba Tourism Authority. “We are working hard to attract visitors to the island through high-profile events - including our upcoming Soul Beach Music Festival, second annual Aruba International Film Festival and our first ever fashion week, Aruba In Style.”

In 2010, Aruba experienced an overall increase in visitor arrival numbers of 1.48 percent when compared to 2009. Aruba's top three markets accounted for 80.85 percent of the total visitors and the USA remained the largest visitor generating market with a 64.96 percent market share, followed by Venezuela (11.01 percent) and the Netherlands (4.90 percent).

The local cruise industry is also faring well. While the 2009-2010 season received 289 calls and 516,000 passengers, the 2010-2011 cruise season will see an increase to 310 calls and approximately 530,000 passengers, which is an approximate 5% increase over the 2009 season. Aruba expects to surpass the 100,000 cruise visitor per month mark in March 2011.

Tourism is Aruba's leading industry and the island is currently undergoing a major development program designed to rejuvenate the downtown center of Oranjestad, as well as expand and enhance its tourism product and facilities. This new program, coupled with careful plans to preserve the island's beautiful beaches and waters and to protect the island from over-development, has led to Aruba's success with a nearly 60 percent repeat visitor rate, one of the highest in the Caribbean.

ARUBA TOPS THE LIST:
NAMED NO. 1 WRECK DIVING AND NO. 3 ADVANCED DIVING DESTINATION

Scuba Diving Magazine recognizes Aruba in the 2011 Top 100 Readers' Choice awards

NEW YORK, NY (February 10, 2011) - Dive into the crystal clear waters of Aruba and experience what Scuba Diving magazine recently recognized as the No. 1 wreck diving and No. 3 advanced diving destination in the Caribbean. With more than 20 dive sites and over 8 shipwrecks to explore, including the largest in the Caribbean, the Antilla German freighter, Aruba has something to offer divers of all ages and skill levels. In addition to the allure of these fascinating ship wrecks, divers are drawn to the island by its diverse marine life, made up of creatures of all shapes, sizes and colors.

Schools of snappers and grunt fish are common to Aruba and a variety of fish admired for their beauty can also be found among the abundant coral reefs, including the regal Queen Angelfish, the equally colorful, but diminutive Damselfish and the blue-colored Parrotfish, who are particularly friendly to visiting snorkelers at De Palm Island. The waters surrounding Aruba are also home to an array of octopus species such as the Caribbean Two-Spot Octopus, Atlantic Pygmy Octopus and Caribbean Reef Octopus, which can be found among the coral reefs or burrowing among the rocks.

With scuba sites ranging from beginner to advanced levels, divers of all skill sets can experience Aruba's undersea world.

Below is a guide to some of Aruba's top scuba diving sites:

- ANTILLA WRECK (60') - This famous wreck of a World War II German freighter is located on the North West coast of Malmok beach. One of the largest wrecks in the Caribbean (400 ft.), the ship is covered by giant ruby sponges and coral formations, and is surrounded by lobsters and a variety of tropical fish.
- JANE SEA FREIGHTER WRECK (30'-90') - This dive initiates on the Barcadera reef and gradually descends to the Jane Sea wreck. One of the most fascinating wreck dive experiences available, the Jane Sea freighter stands up-right so divers can plunge past the depths of the ship's hulls and cabins where sea fans and brain coral have made a living totem to the undersea world.
- MALMOK REEF & DEBBIE II (70') - Located about 2 miles off the North West coast of Aruba, the Malmok Reef is known for its wildly spread leaf and brain corals, lobsters, stingrays, and giant barrel sponges in purples, oranges and greens. In 1992, the Debbie II, a 120 ft fuel barge was sunk as an additional attraction where schools of fish and barracudas often gather.

- PEDERNALES WRECK (35') - A beginner's paradise about 1 mile west of Palm Beach, this dive offers a combination of large pieces of an oil tanker that was torpedoed during World War II spread out between coral formations. This area is home to lobsters, groupers and a large number of angelfish.
- RENAISSANCE AIRPLANES (40'-80') - This dive site, located on Renaissance reef is home to two sunken airplanes. The older of the two, the Convair 400, lies in about 80 ft of water, and the newer YS-11, a former Air Aruba plane, lies in 40 ft of water. A variety of marine life makes their home in the airplanes, which are surrounded by a colorful array of coral.
- DE PALM SLOPE (15-120') - This beautiful reef is located right along side De Palm island. The magnificent coral formations sloping to great depths allow divers to take advantage of this interesting drift dive. It is accessible from shore (De Palm Island) or by boat.
- MANGEL HALTO REEF (110') - Named "Mangel Halto" because of the Mangroves surrounding the nearby beach, this dive provides a memorable experience. A pronounced slope from 15ft down to 110ft gives divers the opportunity to admire a myriad of coral combinations. All types of marine life can be found in this area, from deep-water gorgonians, sea anemones, tube and vase sponges to octopus, seahorses and yellow tails.
- CABEZ REEF (50') - This dive site is located at the tip of Aruba's east coast. Rough seas and strong currents make this a dive for advanced shore divers only. Large schools of barracuda, amberjacks and rainbow runners along with sting ray and other tropical fish make this one of the most exhilarating dives on the island.
- ARASHI REEF (35'-40') - Located just half a mile off Arashi Beach, this site is a fascinating reef for beginners. The area is home to brain coral, large star corals and many sea fans, as well as parts of a sunken Lockheed Lodestar, which are scattered at about 35 feet below the sea.
- TUGBOAT WRECK (40'-90') - This wreck is located about 2 miles South West of the Oranjestad harbor. A gradual slope brings the diver through magnificent formations of hard and soft coral to an old pilot boat. Green moray eels and French angelfish are often spotted at this site, as well as occasional stingrays and spotted eagle rays, which can be seen close by. This thrilling dive also offers the opportunity to come face-to-face with two green moray eels that "guard" the boat.

Follow the Rhythm at Aruba's 5th Annual Caribbean Sea Jazz Festival this October 7-8

Angie Stone, Eddie Palmieri and Candy Dulfer among Headliners

NEW YORK, NY (DATE) - Aruba is gearing up for its fifth annual Caribbean Sea Jazz Festival, taking place October 7 - 8 in the capital of Oranjestad at Cas di Cultura Plaza. Travelers and music enthusiasts are invited to enjoy the sun, sand, and rhythms during this exciting weekend-long event.

Since 2007, Aruba's Caribbean Sea Jazz Festival has featured international and local artists from a variety of musical genres including salsa, jazz, rock, and even hip hop. In addition to music, highlights of the festival include street theater, fine arts, and a food area with culinary specialties.

This year's Caribbean Sea Jazz Festival will feature the following artists:

Angie Stone - American R&B and soul singer-songwriter, keyboardist and record producer. Stone began her music career during the 1990s as part of the R&B trio Vertical Hold which released the popular single "Seems You're Much Too Busy" as well as two albums: A Matter of Time (1993) and Head First (1995). Stone recently finished a stand-up theatre play tour entitled Issues: We've Got Them All in which she had a leading role. She appeared on the VH1's reality television series Celebrity Fit Club for the fourth season. While on the show, Stone lost eighteen pounds, the second lowest loss in the history of the show.

Eddie Palmieri - Grammy Award winning Puerto Rican pianist, bandleader and musician, Palmieri is best known for combining jazz piano and instrumental solos with Latin rhythms. He won two Grammys for the recordings of Palo Pa Rumba and Solito. Palmieri currently continues to be actively involved with music. He formed a new band, La Perfecta II, with whom he recorded the CD Ritmo Caliente (Hot Rhythm).

Candy Dulfer - Dutch smooth jazz alto saxophonist, Dulfer began playing at the age of six. She founded her band, Funky Stuff, when she was fourteen years old. Her debut album Saxuality (1990) received a Grammy Award nomination. Dulfer has released nine studio albums, two live albums, and one compilation album. She has performed and recorded songs with other notable musicians, such as her father Hans Dulfer, Prince, Dave Stewart, René Froger, Van Morrison, and Maceo Parker. She hosts the Dutch television series Candy meets... (2007), in which she interviews fellow musicians.

Richard Bona - Prominent jazz bassist and musician, Bona's first solo album, Scenes from My Life, was released in 1999. He has also been prominently featured in Jaco Pastorius Big Band albums, as well as many other albums by various top-tier jazz musicians. In 2005 Bona released his fourth album Tiki, which included collaboration with John Legend on one track, entitled "Please Don't Stop." He currently holds a professorship of music at New York University.

Raul Midon - Singer-songwriter and guitarist, Midon combines his distinct voice, strumming, beats, and vocal mouth trumpet sounds to create a one-man performance. His style shows influences of a variety of genres, including jazz, blues, R&B, and folk. In March 2009, Midon began working with Grammy Award winning producer, Larry Klein on his latest album "Synthesis" for the Universal Decca Label.

The concept of the Caribbean Sea Jazz Festival appeared as a replica to the world-class North Sea Jazz Festival created by Paul Ackett, taking place in the Netherlands in the summer. The annual Aruba Jazz & Latin Music festival, which took place from 1986 until 2001, can be viewed as a predecessor of the Caribbean Sea Jazz Festival.

Tickets cost US $35 for a daily pass. For more information of the Caribbean Sea Jazz Festival, please visit: www.caribbeanseajazz.com. For more information on travel to Aruba, please visit www.aruba.com.

The Grand Parade takes place on March 6, and is filled with music and festive floats and costumes, in imaginative designs and decorated with a wide variety of colorful stones and feathers, creating a unique display. TEE OFF IN ARUBA, HIT THE LINKS AND TAKE A SWING ON VACATION

NEW YORK, NY (Date, 2011) - Aruba's constant sunshine and stunning beach vistas help create the ideal setting for a golf getaway for avid golfers and beginners alike. The island's characteristic trade winds, along with cactus and water hazards, prove to be both a pleasure and a challenge for golfers as they swing and putt their way to a memorable vacation experience.

Securing Aruba's status as a popular golf destination is the annual Aruba International Pro-Am Golf Tournament. Each summer, teams of professional and amateur golfers from around the world arrive on the island to compete in this two-day, 36-hole event held at the world-class, 18-hole Tierra del Sol golf course.

In addition to Tierra del Sol, Aruba's courses include The Links at Divi Aruba and Aruba Golf Club, two 9-hole courses that provide travelers with an array of golfing options, each with their own distinctive features. Visitors are invited to grab their clubs and experience one happy golf vacation on the One happy island.

Tierra del Sol Resort, Spa & Country Club - Designed by renowned Robert Trent Jones II, Aruba's first world class and only 18-hole golf course, Tierra del Sol combines the native beauty of Aruba's desert flora with the greens of a championship golf course. The 6,811 yard, par-71 course was built with wide expansive fairways and elevation changes that highlight dramatic ocean vistas, as well as the skyline of Aruba's capital, Oranjestad. Tierra del Sol includes a full length practice range, putting greens and chipping areas and a magnificent clubhouse with a golf shop and restaurant facilities. Green fees run from $92 to $159, depending on the time of day and include a cart.

The Links at Divi Aruba - The Links at Divi Aruba is a beautifully landscaped 9-hole course surrounding luxury vacation villas at the Divi Village Golf & Beach Resort in Aruba. Designed by leading architects Litten & Viola and featuring deluxe facilities, the course was created to become the leading Caribbean golf vacation destination. The course is open to the public with preferred tee times for Divi Resort guests and members, and offers professional golf instruction for both individuals and groups. Green fees vary by season and time of day.

Aruba Golf Club - The oldest course on Aruba, the Aruba Golf Club, was opened in 1939 by L.G. Smith and Governor Wagemaker in 1941. Situated just outside of San Nicolas, the course features a 9-hole layout in a desert setting with astro turf greens.

Water hazards and sand traps add a challenge to the course, which can be played from different tees during 18-hole rounds. The Aruba Golf Club is open from Tuesday to Sunday from 7am to 5pm. Green fees are only $20 for 9-holes and $30 for 18-holes. Clubs can be rented for $10 and carts are available at the pro shop.

THE ONE 'GREEN' ISLAND OF ARUBA

NEW YORK, NY (April 11, 2011) - Earth Day is just around the corner, but the One happy island of Aruba maintains its eco-friendly initiatives and island-wide conservation efforts year-round to ensure that its beaches and natural attractions—considered to be some of the best in the Caribbean— are preserved.

Efforts to go green include working with Green Globe/Earthcheck, a worldwide program that assists the travel and tourism industry to attain sustainability and respond to the major environmental problems facing the planet, including climate change, waste reduction and non-renewable resource management.

Of the 85 certified hotels in the Caribbean and Central America, 10 percent are located in Aruba including:

- Amsterdam Manor Beach Resort
- Aruba Beach Club
- Bucuti Beach Resort
- Manchebo Beach Resort
- Costa Linda Beach Resort
- La Cabana All Suite Beach Resort & Casino
- Playa Linda Beach Resort
- Hyatt Regency Aruba

The Radisson Aruba Resort Casino & Spa and the Marriott Aruba Resort are on track for certification as well.

Apart from Green Globe certification, Aruba is closely undertaking a series of environmental initiatives which help contribute to a green island, as part of a larger Sustainable Economic Development program. The reforestation of Arikok National Park is underway, with the planting of native fruit trees to re-populate the flora and fauna. A vast majority of Aruba's beaches are part of a $6 million dollar project to receive the 'Blue Flag' certification, with phase one completed and the beaches of Arahí, Baby Beach and Mangel Halto receiving certification last year.

Additionally, the Wind Energy Park at Vader Piet, which opened in 2009, has already reduced Aruba's dependency on oil by producing an average of 20% of the island's total energy.

Residents and visitors to the island can get involved in Aruba's environmental preservation through yearly events. The 18th annual Aruba Reef Care Project, a clean-up of the island's most popular beaches, dive and snorkel sites, will take place July 2 and 3 this year. The project helps raise awareness for clean marine environments and, with over 800 participants, it is the island's largest volunteer environmental initiative.

Aruba's 10th National Coastal Clean Up, taking place November 12th, is another opportunity to make a difference. The clean-up is concentrated on coastal areas throughout the island including the beaches of Arikok National Park, California sand dunes, Wariruri, Baby Beach, Bachelor's Beach, Boca Grandi, Zeewijk Beach, Mangel Halto, Santo Largo, Arashi, Anaboei, and the open area between the former Bushiri Hotel and the Tamarijn Beach Resort.

ARUBA CONTINUES EFFORTS TO PRESERVE ENVIRONMENT AT THE 18TH ANNUAL ARUBA REEF CARE PROJECT THIS JULY 2-3

New York, NY - (DATE) - Aruba's efforts to preserve its pristine beaches and crystal blue waters continue this July 2 and 3 with the 18th annual Aruba Reef Care Project. With over 900 participants last year, this clean-up of the One happy island's most popular beaches, dive and snorkel sites is the Caribbean destination's largest volunteer environmental initiative.

Locals and tourists are invited to participate at one of the many sites along the coast from Baby Beach all the way north to Arashi Beach beyond the high-rise hotels. Volunteers collect garbage along the island's white sand beaches while snorkelers and divers plunge into the depths to retrieve trash and debris to protect the diverse marine life and to ensure that Aruba, which hosts more than 40,000 divers each year, continues to hold its spot as the No. 1 Wreck Diving and No. 3 Advanced Diving destination in Scuba Diving magazine's Reader's Choice Awards.

The Aruba Reef Care Project, which started as an initiative to raise awareness of the island's precious marine environment and the importance of its protection, is supported by the Aruba Tourism Authority as well as the island's various resorts, which provide lunch boxes and raffle prizes for volunteers. This annual event encourages locals and visitors alike to participate in the project so that they can continue to enjoy Aruba's picturesque beaches and turquoise waters for years to come.

Aruba's commitment to environmental preservation can also be seen through island-wide programs that include the reforestation of Arikok National Park, the use of the Wind Energy Park at Vader Piet to reduce its dependency on oil, a $6 million project to receive the 'Blue Flag' certification at Aruba's most popular beaches and the efforts by various resorts to work with Green Globe/Earthcheck in order to attain sustainability, with 8 hotels already receiving certification.

Those wishing to participate in the Aruba Reef Care Project can sign up at their favorite dive operator, water sport company or hotel or call the Aruba Tourism Authority at 011-297-528-3777.

DISTINCTLY ARUBA: EXPERIENCE WHY ARUBA IS KNOWN AS THE ONE HAPPY ISLAND

NEW YORK, NY (August 2, 2011) - Aruba is known by most for its white sandy beaches, crystal blue waters and year-round 82 degree weather, but the island is also full of unique offerings waiting to be experienced by travelers of all types. From natural wonders dating back to the early 15th century to freshly brewed beer and a cuisine that would make anyone's mouth water, Aruba delivers a distinctive vacation experience.

Pick up a light bite as the day begins at a food stand along the main roads and try a pastechi, the ubiquitous national snack, a deep-fried half-moon pastry with a savory filling (chicken, beef, cheese or ham) to provide energy for a hike through Arikok National Park. The park, which takes up about one fifth of the island, encompasses the three primary geological formations that shape Aruba: the Aruba lava formation, a quartz diorite formation and a limestone formation. While trekking through the park, keep your eyes peeled for animal life found only in Aruba including two snake species: the cascabel (Aruba's rattlesnake) and the santanero (Aruba cat-eyed snake); two bird species: the shoco (Aruban burrowing owl) and the prikichi, (Aruban parakeet) and the kododo blauw (Aruban whiptail lizard).

Also located in Arikok National Park are the Guadirikiri and Fontein Caves, where you can get a glimpse into Aruba's past through cave paintings from the Arawak Indians, which date back to the 1400s.

To cool off after your morning hike, dive into the clear waters off Aruba and explore the Antilla Wreck located on the North West coast of Malmok Beach. This famous wreck of a World War II German freighter is one of the largest shipwrecks in the Caribbean.

After building up an appetite on your hike and dive, dig into Aruba's traditional dish, Keshi Yena, which is made by stuffing the shell of a hollowed Edam or Gouda reel with spiced meat, raisins, olives, nuts, etc and then baked in the oven or steamed in the top of a double boiler. Thirsty? Wash it all down with Aruba's national Balashi Beer or perhaps the brand's new, lighter Balashi Chill for an authentic taste of the island. Those looking for something stronger can try the famed Aruba Ariba cocktail, made with vodka, 151 proof rum, creme de banana, orange juice, cranberry juice, pineapple juice and coecoei, a centuries old Aruban liquor first made by the island's Indian tribes.

End the day by heading to one of Aruba's beautiful beaches and watch the sunset under the island's trademark Divi Divi tree (watapana tree), which acts as a natural compass because it always points south-west due to the constant trade winds blowing from the north-east. After the sun goes down, don't forget to use some locally made Aruba Aloe to soothe that sunburn!

Travelers looking for that authentic Aruba experience can take advantage of the following hotel packages through December:

- Bucuti & Tara Beach Resorts' "Experience Aruba Green Vacation" package is perfect for adults looking for the true Aruba experience and only wanting to see native wildlife, indigenous plant-life and Indian artifacts. The package includes hotel accommodations with a balcony or terrace, full American Breakfast daily, an authentic three-course Aruban dinner for two prepared by local chefs, a tour of the Aruba Aloe Factory, and a guided hike through Arikok National Park with a native ranger. Rates start at $2,164 per couple for an 8 day, 7 night trip. For more information please visit <http://www.bucuti.com/resort/environment/experience-aruba-green-package> or call 888-4-BUCUTI.
- The "Sail into Luxury Package" at the Aruba Marriott Resort & Stellaris Casino can save couples up to $1,000 on a four-night stay. The package includes a 25% discount on leisure rates at the adults-only Tradewinds Club, a Catamaran sail for two, five gourmet food and beverage servings daily, access to Tradewinds Club Lounge and reserved beach area, plus daily open bar from 6:00pm to 9:00pm. Rates start at $393/night and are available through December 20, 2011. To book, call (800) 223-6388 or visit www.arubamarriott.com and request promo code L9Z.
- The Westin Resort & Casino, Aruba has introduced its new Modified All-Inclusive package. Rates start at $399 per room, per night (based on double occupancy). The deal consists of overnight accommodations including taxes and gratuities, daily breakfast for two in Bon Bini Restaurant, daily lunch for two in The Terrace Restaurant, alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages and non-motorized water activities at the resort. SAY "I DO" IN ARUBA AND TREAT YOUR SWEETHEART TO A MEMORABLE WEDDING AND HONEYMOON

*Tips from Onsite Wedding Coordinators and Irresistible
Honeymoon Packages from Island Resorts*

New York, NY (April 20, 2011) - When it comes time to plan a wedding, it may seem like falling in love was the easy part. However, choosing to say "I do" on Aruba, the One happy island, can ease the stressful planning from start to finish. Perfect weather, fantasy-inspired natural settings and outstanding resort services are only a few of the reasons that Aruba entices couples for both their wedding and honeymoon plans.

From sunset views at the California Lighthouse and a quiet dinner at the rustic pier, to a horseback riding tour around the island's most romantic spots and a refreshing swim around the Natural Pool, a couple can find all the elements of a perfect celebration of their love in Aruba.

Couples are also reminded that Aruba offers a one of a kind online destination celebrations registry which makes the Aruban experience even more easy and enticing. The Aruba Celebrations Registry offers couple's friends and family the opportunity to purchase a part of their destination wedding or honeymoon as a wedding gift. The Aruba celebrations registry offers wedding guests multiple ways to pay for vacation expenses at a variety of price points, with options ranging from hotel stays to sunset sails and candle-lit dinners.

For those looking for advice on how to make their special day a memorable experience, Aruba's resorts assure couples of unique wedding experiences through specialized wedding coordinators who can create a celebration that fits their wishes and budget. Below are some of the tips from wedding coordinators:

- ♦ The onsite wedding coordinator at Occidental Grand Aruba, Eliana Fun-Arguello, advises couples who plan a wedding in Aruba to "start early and book the day at the desired location well in advance, as certain dates are very busy and are taken quickly." To assist the hotel offers an online "save-the-date" invitation tool.

- ◆ Nashette Wouters at Bucuti Beach Resort thinks that the number one tip for a destination wedding is to build in extra travel time. "Don't plan to travel the day before your wedding -- give yourselves two or three days of padding, and suggest that your attending guests do the same. Many couples plan some fun events for a few days leading up to the wedding and hold the celebration on the final day. Then, if guests are delayed for whatever reason, they don't miss the main event."
- ◆ Divi Resorts' Lorraine Versteeg, Wedding Director of Aruba Weddings for You - an on-site destination wedding planning service, reminds couples that "the location of a destination wedding can naturally set a theme for the ceremony, which often leads to special touches atypical of traditional weddings."
- ◆ At The Westin Resort & Casino, wedding coordinator Inge van Roon advises that "the Aruba sunset is not to be missed, so a late afternoon wedding is ideal to take advantage of the gorgeous views!"

Additionally, below is a sampling of Aruba's resorts which offer their own honeymoon packages:

- ◆ The Westin Resort & Casino, Aruba - Stay Longer for $99 Per Night: Couples can extend their wedding stay to enjoy a honeymoon or post-celebration relaxation at only $99/night* through Dec. 18, 2011. Offer good for up to two nights, based on a minimum wedding stay of five nights. In addition to stunning oceanfront venues, the property offers special perks to wedding couples including an upgrade to a honeymoon suite at the group rate, complimentary airport transfers, an on-site wedding professional and a complimentary personalized Westin wedding booking webpage. For more details visit www.westinaruba.com.
- ◆ The "Honeymoon Package" at the Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort in Aruba provides newlyweds with everything they need to rejuvenate and get away from it all. The package includes hotel accommodations with a balcony or terrace, all taxes and service charges, full American breakfast buffet daily, a bottle of champagne in the room, candlelight dinner for two on the beach and a daytime snorkel or sunset sailing cruise. Package rates start at $2,400 for 8 days/7 nights and $1,811 for 6 days/5 nights. The package is valid from April 24, 2011 - December 22, 2011. To book the package call (888) 4-BUCUTI or visit www.bucuti.com
- ◆ Celebrate your marriage Caribbean-style by reserving a Honeymoon Package at the Divi Village Golf & Beach Resort. Starting at only $2,798 for two, these all-inclusive packages include: seven nights in a beautiful one bedroom suite, flower petals in your room upon arrival, all-inclusive meals and drinks during your stay and more! Travel now through December 23, 2011.
- ◆ Unwind with the Honeymoon Package available at the Divi Aruba Phoenix Beach Resort. Enjoy five nights in either a Studio Suite or One Bedroom Suite, breakfast daily for two, fruit basket in room upon arrival and a romantic candlelight dinner at the Sunset Beach Bistro. Packages start at $1,395 per couple, and booking and travel is available now through December 23, 2011.
